Horsburgh & Scott Announces Appointment of New President and CEO

Cleveland, OH: October 18, 2017 - Horsburgh & Scott, the world leader in large gear manufacturing, has announced the appointment of Randy Burdick as President and CEO effective October 18, 2017. Burdick has more than 25 years of experience with industrial power transmission solutions and most recently held the position of President and COO of Brevini, USA.

Randy Burdick has extensive experience with the Company's products, markets and customers. His career began with Falk back in 1990 and he's been in the industry ever since in a variety of technical, commercial and leadership roles at Falk, Rexnord and Prager before landing at Brevini, USA.

"Horsburgh & Scott is a well-recognized brand and I'm excited to see the capability that is available to serve the market," says Burdick. "The company is known for designing and manufacturing custom power transmission solutions for some of the most demanding applications and their products have been in service for decades. That's a foundation and value proposition upon which I'm excited to build," he adds.

Lloyd Trotter, H&S Chairman and GenNx360 CP Founder & Managing Partner, said "We are excited to have Randy leading the H&S team. Randy is deeply rooted in the industry; he brings a wealth of gear experience and a vast business background. Randy will be a valuable asset to H&S and an essential part of the growth of the company."
